The Road Not Taken

Robert Frost.

*Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;
Then took the other, as just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;*

*Though as for that the passing there
Had worn them really about the same,
And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.*

*I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I—
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.*

How Do Trains Eat?

They CHOO! CHOO!

“Tradition Is Basically Peer Pressure By Dead People.”

I was Today years old when I learnt NEWSPAPER Stood for NORTH EAST WEST SOUTH PAST AND PRESENT EVENT REPORT

Laughs and Giggles!

My student just told me her sister is gonna be at the hospital for a couple of weeks... Turns out she’s a nursing intern.

LAUGHS AND GIGGLES!

Why don’t skeletons fight each other?

They don’t have the guts.

I told my sister she was drawing her eyebrows too high..

She looked surprised!

Why don’t scientists trust atoms?

Because They make up everything.

Why did the student bring a ladder to the MATH 3 EOC?

Because they heard the questions were above their level.

BENEFITS OF BEDWETTING

There aren’t any benefits to peeing in your bed- its generally what people avoid.

However, some may argue that

Peeing in your sleep may be

A Built-in alarm system! You’ll wake up instantly, do not worry about your alarm not ringing!

Warmth! - If it is cold at night, it might feel warm..... for a bit.

Laundering Skills! - Frequent washing could make you an expert in laundry!

Personal Space! - Noone Will Want to Share a bed with you! You’ll have your cozy bed all to yourself!

If- Poem By

RUDYARD KIPLING

If you can keep your head when all about you

Are losing theirs and blaming it on you,

If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,

But make allowance for their doubting too;

If you can wait and not be tired by waiting,

Or being lied about, don’t deal in lies,

Or being hated, don’t give way to hating,

And yet don’t look too good, nor talk too wise:

If you can dream—and not make dreams your master;

If you can think—and not make thoughts your aim;

If you can meet with Triumph and Disaster

And treat those two impostors just the same;

If you can bear to hear the truth you’ve spoken

Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools,

Or watch the things you gave your life to, broken,

And stoop and build ’em up with worn-out tools:

If you can make one heap of all your winnings

And risk it on one turn of pitch-and-toss,

And lose, and start again at your beginnings

And never breathe a word about your loss;

If you can force your heart and nerve and sinew

To serve your turn long after they are gone,

And so hold on when there is nothing in you

Except the Will which says to them: ‘Hold on!’

If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue,

Or walk with Kings—nor lose the common touch,

If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you,

If all men count with you, but none too much.

If you can fill the unforgiving minute

With sixty seconds’ worth of distance
run,

Yours is the Earth and everything that’s in
it,

And—which is more—you’ll be a Man,
my son!

Rudyard Kipling Wrote This Poem On Discipline and maturity.

The NECKLACE

MAUPASSANT

NOTE; THIS AN ADAPTION AND NOT THE ORIGINAL. YOU COULD FIND THE ORIGINAL ONE ONLINE ON THE WIKIPEDIA.

Madame Loisel was unhappy with her modest life, always dreaming of luxury and elegance. When she and her husband were invited to a fancy ball, she borrowed a beautiful diamond necklace from a rich friend to look the part. That night, she was the star of the party, glowing with confidence and grace.

But when she returned home, the necklace was gone. In a panic, she and her husband borrowed large sums of money to buy a replacement that looked exactly the same. She returned it quietly and never told her friend. To repay their debt, they worked for ten hard years—Madame Loisel aged early, doing heavy labor and living in poverty.

One day, she ran into her friend on the street and finally told her the truth. Shocked, her friend replied gently, “Oh, my dear... my necklace was fake. It was worth no more than five hundred francs.”
